INSTRUCTIONS:

MAKEOVER

Subject - FORT LIGONIER HOTEL, Ligonier, Pennsylvania.
ORDER NO. 39611 PLATE NO. 3721-29

This halftone plate has to be made over.

MR. SLADEK:

Customer did not like the last hand colored proof we submitted to him at all, claiming that the building did not show to good advantage, but he like the vignette pencil layout we submitted and has made the following suggestions, which you can incorporate in the making up of a new vignette halftone plate.

Try to omit the lines of the boards in the weatherboarding and have it appear just plain white, preferably gray instead of white, Mr. Sladek.

Try to have the vignette set back just a little further so as to give it more distance; that is, so it will show up better on the side of building. It would be a good idea to show the Fort Ligonier Hotel sign in driveway on left side.

Bring out a little more the building on extreme right, which is pretty well hidden by shrubbery.

Submit a retouched photograph to us for okeh.

COMPOSING ROOM:

Set title in sky similar to that shown on pencil layout.
